The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL <https://secure.in.gov/apps/dnr/htf/license/enterCustomerInformation.action>. The page is titled "IN.gov" and "DNR". It contains a form for "Customer Information" with the following fields: Address, Address 2, City, State (dropdown), Zip Code, Indiana County (dropdown), Phone, E-mail, and a checkbox for "Omit me from DNR Mailing List". The "E-mail" field is highlighted with a green box. Below the form, there is a "Residency" section with radio buttons for "Resident" and "Non-Resident". A note states: "A resident is a person who has lived in Indiana continuously for a period of 60 days preceding the date of license or permit purchase. All others are non-residents." A "Continue »" button is at the bottom of the form.

Fly Fishing Casting Basics

Unlike in spin casting, where the weight of the lure pulls the line off the reel, in fly casting, the weight of the line carries the fly to the fish. Remember the fly rod and line (and thus the fly) will go in the direction you point the rod tip in a cast. To learn to fly cast, it's important to understand the mechanics of the fly rod.

A fly rod is flexible, giving you the ability to cast the rod and release energy through it to send out the line. To get the rod to release energy, you want the rod to stroke (or bend), then stop. Proper stroking and stopping of the fly rod will create a good fly cast with proper energy. Releasing energy through a fly rod is not necessarily strength-related, it's more timing related. Practice is the best way to become good at timing your cast.

my toddler this week®

Your child is 21 months old. Wrong age?

Hello, Stephanie!

Your toddler may suddenly develop a fear of something particular, such as insects or water. This may have arisen from an actual incident – maybe a spider dropped onto your child's arm, and his increasingly capable brain is able to remember it for weeks. Not to worry: Experts say that toddler fears and phobias eventually pass. In the meantime, there are several ways to help your child deal with his fear. For example, acknowledge how he feels and provide some reassurance: "I know you don't like spiders – I'll catch that one and put it outside."

Toddler Speech Concerns

Children learn to speak at vastly different rates, but if your toddler seems to be lagging far behind her peers, talk to your healthcare provider. Early intervention can prevent a much bigger problem from developing in the future.

IT'S TIME TO RENEW YOUR FISHING LICENSE.

Invest in a favorite pastime, while helping to conserve Florida waterways.

Thank you for your past support of Florida natural resources. Your license renewal does more than grant you the freedom to fish Florida's many beautiful lakes, rivers, streams and coastal waters. The revenue generated from your fishing license goes toward conserving your local waterways today and for generations to come. If you have already purchased your fishing license this year, thank you for your support.

Where to renew your license:

- www.fl.takemefishing.org
- Call 888-347-4356 (Fish FLorida)
- In-person at a local outdoor sports retailer.
